(H.O.D. Deptt. of Political Science, Giridih College Giridih)

The programme started with garlanding the portrait of late K. N. Bakshi, offering flowers and lighting lamp. Prof. Rajesh Ravidas felicitated the chief guest with a bouguet and a momento. Prof. Rajeev Sharma managed and conducted the stage. Welcome speech of the subject of teacher orientation programme and introduction of the subject was done by shri Pavan Kr. Suman.

After the inaugural session, the chief speaker addressed. He first kept the introduction session and got information from all the teachers regarding the subjects/papers being taught by them. In the course of address he mainly talked about the process of evaluation of the students and to increase the objectivity of the evaluation process. The reason why teachers were respected by the society and the state in ancient times was because teachers used to see their work as a public welfare penance. Through hard work, good moral qualities were developed among the students. Teachers were the role model and had the exemplary personality.

In the modern education system, the marks obtained in the examination result have got the most important place and it has been established as the criteria of students' partial. Evaluation and assesment of students should be holistic, he added.
